Why Courts Matter
Third Branch? How politicians are systematically trying to weaken the courts and what we can do about it.

Ellen Freidin

There is widespread uneasiness about the future of our court system and the impact of changes on our system of checks and balances. Ellen Freidin, a well-known Miami lawyer, who was the dynamic force behind Florida’s Fair District amendments, is uniquely qualified to address this concern. Ellen is past chair of the state 11th Circuit Judicial Nominating Commission and served on the 1998 Florida Constitutional Revision Commission. Throughout her career she has worked tirelessly to secure gender equality and justice in Florida.
